It's worth remembering that the bounty is only paid to the player who wins the very last of an eliminated 3 player's chips. It doesn't matter if Player Z wins a huge pot and leaves an opponent with one big blind. 3 Player Z won't win the bounty. The bounty goes to the opponent who snags that last chip and causes the 3 actual elimination.

$50 would go into the bounty pool

If Player C then goes on to knock out Player D, Player E 3 and Player F too, he picks up half of their bounties as immediate cash payments. But also sees his own 3 bounty grow significantly.

If you happen to win a PKO tournament — i.e., nobody ever knocks you out and therefore nobody 3 wins your bounty — you get to keep your own bounty.

If you knock someone out, you get half of your 3 opponent's bounty as a cash prize immediately. The other half goes into your bounty, much like with a regular PKO 3 tournament.
