Vitória esmagadora do Partido Trabalhista é saudada como um farol de esperança para progressistas kyc novibet todo o mundo

A vitória esmagadora 3 do Partido Trabalhista foi saudada como um farol de esperança para progressistas kyc novibet todo o mundo após um aumento no 3 apoio a partidos de extrema-direita na Europa e com o Donald Trump atualmente sendo leve favorito para se tornar o 3 presidente dos EUA kyc novibet janeiro.

No entanto, a barreira do Reino Unido contra a maré populista e extremista que está varrendo 3 as capitais europeias pode ser tão prática quanto ideológica. A partido de direita Reforma de Nigel Farage obteve 14% dos 3 votos kyc novibet todo o país, não muito longe dos 16% reivindicados pelo partido de extrema-direita alemão Alternativa para a Alemanha 3 (AfD) nas recentes eleições para o Parlamento Europeu.

O AfD está agora enviando um bloco significativo de eurodeputados para Bruxelas. Em 3 contraste, no sistema de primeiro passado o poste do Reino Unido, que recompensa apenas o vencedor kyc novibet cada constituição, mais 3 de 4 milhões de votos para a Reforma produziram apenas cinco assentos no parlamento.

O pequeno grupo da Reforma tentará pressionar 3 o governo e certamente influenciará o Partido Conservador à medida que ele reconstitui kyc novibet liderança na esteira da derrota esmagadora 3 da semana passada, mas terá pouco poder real.

"Se o Reino Unido tivesse um sistema de votação diferente, estaríamos vendo um 3 nível de fragmentação semelhante a outros lugares na Europa", disse Marta Lorimer, professora de política na Universidade de Cardiff. "Algumas 3 tendências estão apenas encobertas pelo jeito como o sistema eleitoral funciona."

A natureza do sistema de votação do Reino Unido não 3 apenas diminui o impacto político dos votos lançados para partidos menores - seja a Reforma ou o Partido Verde - 3 é provável que também desencoraje alguns potenciais apoiadores de apoiá-los no primeiro lugar.

Nas eleições europeias, os eleitores sabem que mesmo 3 alguns legisladores de um pequeno partido podem fazer parte de uma coligação, dando-lhes mais incentivo a escolher com o coração 3 kyc novibet vez de com a cabeça.

"Saindo de 14 anos de governo conservador, se os eleitores estivessem procurando mudança, eles sabiam 3 que tinham que escolher entre esquerda e direita", disse Lorimer adicionado.

Stefanie Walter, professora de relações internacionais na Universidade de Zurique, 3 disse: "O sucesso relativo de partidos menores nas eleições do Reino Unido - apesar dessas restrições estruturais sobre eles alcançarem 3 o poder - é conduzido pelas mesmas tendências políticas que estão modelando a Europa.

"Embora haja fortes incentivos eleitorais para votar 3 nos dois principais partidos no Reino Unido, o voto está se fragmentando mais, e com mais impacto."

Ela disse: "Isso reflete 3 uma fragmentação maior que vemos kyc novibet toda a Europa, onde o espectro político costumava ser unidimensional, com partidos alinhados à 3 esquerda e à direita. Nas últimas 20 anos, uma segunda dimensão se abriu kyc novibet torno do nacionalismo e da abertura 3 kyc novibet particular, então há mais espaço para competir, mais espaço para partidos com perfis políticos diferentes."

No entanto, isso não apenas 3 beneficia populistas ou a direita. O Partido Verde do Reino Unido e os Liberal Democratas fizeram ganhos significativos na quinta-feira, 3 e sistemas de representação proporcional também retornaram governos de esquerda na Europa, mesmo com o crescimento da extrema-direita sendo um 3 foco de atenção da mídia e preocupação política.

Farage tem sido principalmente um candidato de um único assunto, embora tenha sido 3 extraordinariamente bem-sucedido kyc novibet pressionar por um referendo sobre a saída do Reino Unido da União Europeia, disse a Prof. Amelia 3 Hadfield, diretora fundadora do Centro para o Reino Unido e Europa.

Ele pode tirar inspiração do sucesso de populistas na Europa 3 e prometeu criar uma "campanha nacional kyc novibet massa" nas eleições de 2029. Mas os colegas de canal gastaram anos expandindo 3 seu apelo, acumulando experiência kyc novibet governo e moldando plataformas de política mais amplas.

Hadfield disse: "A pergunta é, o senhor Farage 3 consegue transferir algum impulso do Brexit. Ele agora precisa converter o que é uma construção liderada e individual para o 3 topo. Será um esforço para cima do senhor Farage para construí-lo nas linhas de partidos populistas mais estabelecidos."

Se o resultado 3 da eleição não foi uma vitória simples para progressistas ou um desvio de tendências populistas, a transição de poder que 3 se seguiu na manhã de sexta-feira foi um triunfo inequívoco para a democracia.

Rishi Sunak, o primeiro-ministro conservador saído, e Jeremy 3 Hunt, o ex-chanceler, reconheceram a vitória do Partido Trabalhista e o compromisso de Starmer com o serviço público - apesar 3 de suas diferenças políticas sobre como melhor servir. Starmer respondeu kyc novibet espécie.

O apoio crescente à extrema-direita foi acompanhado kyc novibet muitos 3 lugares por ataques a instituições da democracia. O ataque de 6 de janeiro ao Capitólio dos EUA parece ter pouco 3 feito para ferir as chances de Trump na eleição presidencial de novembro.

Portanto, essas declarações mutuas, talvez até coreografadas, de respeito 3 pela democracia britânica e a vontade dos eleitores britânicos provavelmente serão acolhidas no espírito bipartidário kyc novibet que foram feitas.

"Um senso de cordialidade sempre fez parte da política britânica", disse Hadfield. "Não o vimos muito kyc novibet evidência nos últimos anos, e o povo britânico tem uma memória longa e ressentem a perda de civilidade."

Inner Borough of London, England

"Newham" redirects here. For other uses, see Newham (disambiguation)

London borough in United Kingdom

The London Borough of Newham is a London borough created in 1965 by the London Government Act 1963. It covers an area previously administered by the Essex county boroughs of West Ham and East Ham, authorities that were both abolished by the same act. The name Newham reflects its creation and combines the compass points of the old borough names.

Situated in the Inner London part of East London, Newham has a population of 387,576, which is the third highest of the London boroughs and also makes it the 16th most populous district in England. The local authority is Newham London Borough Council.

It is 5 miles (8 km) east of the City of London, north of the River Thames (the Woolwich Ferry and Woolwich foot tunnel providing the only crossings to the south), bounded by the River Lea to its west and the North Circular Road to its east. Newham was one of the six host boroughs for the 2012 Summer Olympics and contains most of the Olympic Park including the London Stadium, and also contains the London City Airport. Major districts include East Ham, West Ham, Stratford, Plaistow, Forest Gate, Beckton and Canning Town.

History [ edit ]

The borough was formed on 1 April 1965 under the London Government Act 1963, as a borough of the newly formed Greater London. It broadly covered the areas of the county borough of East Ham and the county borough of West Ham that were abolished by the same act. These in turn were successors to the ancient civil and ecclesiastical parishes of East Ham and West Ham. Green Street and Boundary Road mark the former boundary between the two. North Woolwich also became part of the borough (previously being part of the Metropolitan Borough of Woolwich, south of the river Thames in the County of London) along with a small area west of the River Roding which had previously been part of the Municipal Borough of Barking. Newham was devised for the borough as an entirely new name.[1]

Manor of Ham [ edit ]

The area of the modern borough was at one time occupied by a manor (an estate or landholding with certain legal responsibilities) called 'Ham'. The name comes from Old English 'hamm' and means 'a dry area of land between rivers or marshland', referring to the location of the settlement within boundaries formed by the rivers Lea, Thames and Roding and their marshes.[2]

The first known written use of the term, as 'Hamme', is in an Anglo-Saxon charter of 958, in which King Edgar granted the area to Ealdorman Athelstan. The territory was undivided at that time. A subsequent charter of 1037 describes a transfer of land which has been identified with East Ham, indicating that the division of the territory occurred between 958 and 1037.[3]

The Domesday Book shows landholdings divided further, and by the end of the 12th century these manors were being served, singly or in groups of manors, by the familiar ancient parishes of West Ham, East Ham and Little Ilford (now also known as Manor Park), with some areas by the Roding a part of Barking, and the area now known as North Woolwich attached to Woolwich. The earliest recorded use of the name West Ham, Westhamma, comes in 1186, and East Ham, Estham, is recorded in 1204.[4]

The boundary between West and East Ham was drawn from the now lost Hamfrith Waste and Hamfrith Wood in the north (then the southernmost parts of Epping Forest which extended as far south as the Romford Road at that time), along Green Street down to the small, also lost, natural harbour known as Ham Creek. Ham Creek was filled-in in the nineteenth century,[5] but the small residual head of the creek still formed the boundary between the two areas into the late 20th century, when what remained was also filled in.

The formation of the modern borough in 1965 saw the merger of West and East Ham, together with North Woolwich and Barking west of the River Roding. Little Ilford had become part of East Ham as part of earlier local government reorganisations.

Medieval period [ edit ]

The prosperity of the area increased due to the construction of Bow Bridge, the only bridge over the Lea, and the creation of Stratford Langthorne Abbey.

Governance [ edit ]

A map showing the wards of Newham since 2002

Unlike most English districts, its council is led by a directly elected mayor of Newham. From 2002 to 2009 one of the councillors had been appointed as the "civic ambassador" and performed the civic and ceremonial role previously carried out by the mayor. The post has been discontinued.[6] At the borough elections held in 2014, the Labour Party won all 60 of the seats on the council. Sir Robin Wales was re-elected as the borough's Executive Mayor with 61% of the first preference votes cast.

In 2024, Robin Wales was deselected as the Labour Party mayoral candidate. Rokhsana Fiaz was elected in the position of Executive Mayor, also for the Labour party.[7]

Coat of arms [ edit ]

The borough adopted West Ham's coat of arms, but with a motto adapted from that of East Ham.[8]

The arms include the following elements:

The crosier signified the Cistercian Stratford Langthorne Abbey.

The sword and the red and yellow chevronells are taken from the arms of William de Montfitchet, a major local landowner and founder of the abbey.

The crossed hammers represent the Thames Ironworks and Shipbuilding Company, once a major local employer.

The ship in full sail represents the maritime trades and the area's links to the sea.

The arms also include a sun rising in the east.

The borough's motto, "Progress with the People" is an English translation of East Ham's Latin "Progressio cum Populo".

Greater London representation [ edit ]

For elections to the Greater London Council, the borough formed the Newham electoral division, electing three members. In 1973 it was divided into the single-member Newham North East, Newham North West and Newham South electoral divisions.[9] The Greater London Council was abolished in 1986.

Since 2000, for elections to the London Assembly, the borough forms part of the City and East constituency.

Newham has, after Barnet and Croydon, the third highest population of the London boroughs, with a population numbering 382,984 as of 2024. Despite growing since the 1980s, it is still drastically lower than its pre-war peak. In the period between 1951 and 1981, Newham's population shrunk by 28.87% owing to factors such as the war bombings and the increasingly high unemployment. The redevelopment of the Docklands as well as development related to the 2012 Olympics have contributed to reversing its declining trend.[10]

Ethnicities [ edit ]

Ethnic makeup of Newham in single year age groups in 2024

Newham has the youngest overall population and one of the lowest White British populations in the country according to the 2011 UK Census. The borough has the second-highest percentage of Muslims in the UK, after the neighbouring London Borough of Tower Hamlets, at 32%. A 2024 report from Trust for London and the New Policy Institute found that 36% of local employees in Newham are in low paid work; the highest percentage of any London borough. Newham also has a 37% poverty rate, which is the second-highest rate in London.[11]

Newham is very ethnically diverse. When using Simpson's Diversity Index on 10 aggregated ethnic groups, the 2001 UK Census identified Newham as the most ethnically diverse district in England and Wales, with 9 wards in the top 15.[12] However, when using the 16 ethnic categories in the Census so that White Irish and White Other ethnic minorities are also included in the analysis, Newham becomes the second-most ethnically diverse borough[13] with six out of the top 15 wards, behind Brent with 7 out of the top 15 wards.

Newham has the lowest percentage of White British residents of all of London's boroughs.[14][15] The joint-lowest wards with White British population are Green Street East and Green Street West, each having 4.8% – the third-lowest behind Southall Broadway and Southall Green in Ealing. East Ham North follows closely, at 4.9%.[16]

As of the 2024 UK census, people of "Bangladeshi" ethnicity are the largest single group in the borough at 15.9%. "White British" are the second largest group at 14.8%, with "White Other" third largest at 14.6%, "African" fourth largest at 11.6%, "Indian" next largest at 11% and then "Pakistani" at 8.9%. Newham has had a large Asian community for many decades; more than half of Newham's Upton and Kensington wards were of ethnic minority origin in 1981.[17] The nationality to increase the most in number since 1991 is the Bangladeshi community.[18]

Newham has the largest total population of Asian origin in London; it is notably a borough with high populations of all three largest British Asian nationalities, having the 5th highest Indian population in London and the 2nd highest each for both Pakistani and Bangladeshi.[19]

Newham has 1,340 residents who were born in Ukraine, the highest population of Ukrainians in the UK.[20]

Health [ edit ]

In 2024, Newham had the lowest life expectancy and the highest rate of heart disease of all London boroughs together with the London Borough of Tower Hamlets.[26]

In 2024, the BBC reported that Newham had the highest rate of tuberculosis in the UK at 107 per 100,000 population, which was higher than Rwanda (69) and Iraq (45) according to WHO figures from 2013. More than 80% of TB cases in London occur in people born abroad. The UK average was 13.[27]

Education [ edit ]

A 2024 report by Trust for London and the New Policy Institute finds that the GCSE attainment gap between advantaged and disadvantaged pupils in Newham is the 4th best out of 32 London boroughs.[32]

Schools and colleges [ edit ]

The Borough is the education authority for the district providing education in a mix of Foundation, community and voluntary aided schools.[33] The borough also owns and operates Debden House, a residential adult education college in Loughton, Essex, and is home to the Rosetta Art Centre, a dedicated visual art organisation which delivers courses at its base in Stratford and produces participatory art projects, programmes and initiatives. The Essex Primary School in Sheridan Road with over 900 pupils is one of the biggest primary schools in London.

University [ edit ]

The University of East London has two campuses in Newham:

Birkbeck Stratford is a collaboration between Birkbeck, University of London and UEL to increase participation in adult learning. This is based on the UEL/Birkbeck shared campus, USS (University Square Stratford), in the centre of Stratford.

The University of East London had formed a partnership with the United States Olympic Committee which resulted in the United States Olympic Team using University of East London campuses as training bases during the London 2012 Olympic and Paralympic Games.[34]

Transport [ edit ]

Since the 1980s, public transport in Newham has undergone many upgrades and improvements are still continuing to this day.

The Docklands Light Railway (DLR) first opened in 1987, and was extended from Tower Hamlets through to Beckton in 1994. The network and has undergone many extensions since, including to serve London City Airport, as well as Stratford International station in 2011 after its High Speed 1 link opened in late 2009. The Jubilee Line Extension was completed in 1999, including new or improved stations at Canning Town, West Ham and Stratford. The DLR network compensates for Newham's lack of tube stations, of which there are only 6, in comparison with other London boroughs. The Crossrail scheme - opening as the Elizabeth line in 2024 - also delivered improved rail connections to several stations as it heads through the borough on an east west axis. Of the 28 stations in Newham, only 4 stations lack step free access - thanks to the recent age of many of the stations in the borough.

As a result of all the recent developments, the borough contains one of only two airports located within the Greater London boundary and currently the only railway station outside of central London that is served by high speed rail.

London City Airport is in Newham
