Como alguém sobrevive aos seus dias de escola?

How does anyone survive their schooldays? I mean, nearly everyone does, obviously, but that doesn't mean it shouldn't count as one of life's great achievements. The happiest days of your life? For some of us, maybe. For a few others, the worst of days. But for everyone, in their own way, they are as challenging as anything adult life throws at you. I base this view on my own schooldays, my children's, their friends', and the children of my friends. In nearly every case, the kids involved have been just fine, they've done well, but I can't help feeling these successes are achieved against all odds.

O primeiro dia de escola

Day one is monumental enough. My mummy dropped me off and left me with a bunch of children I didn't know, and a nice lady called Mrs Timmins. Blimey, I thought, this is a big deal. I got through it, though. When my mum picked me up to take me home for lunch, my little chest was puffed out with pride. I'd done well, everyone said. But after lunch the bombshell was dropped that I'd be going back there for the afternoon. What? And I'd be going back the following day, and the day after that, and every subsequent day for the foreseeable future. This hadn't been made clear to me. I thought it was a one-time event to be brave about, like a visit to the nurse for a jab, or a trip to a safari park. Nobody told me it was a whole new way of life. I was outraged.

Encontrar-se borussia palpite hoje um grupo de estranhos

Finding yourself in a group of strangers is tough enough as an adult. How did we make our way through it when we were not long out of nappies? It would be another decade before my schoolwork involved reading Lord of the Flies and by then, even in the absence of fatalities, I knew what Golding was getting at.

A política do recreio pode ser selvagem

The politics of the playground can be savage. You have a friend who's your best friend who decides someone else is their best friend and doesn't want to play with you any more. Obviously, this kind of thing is standard, happens all the time, but in that moment you can't know this – you're just a tiny kid feeling like it's the end of the world. Somehow you dig deep into your young soul and find a way of coping. You have to. And this is how we learn to be resilient. I get that. But that doesn't mean it's not hard.

Desafios massivos

And over the next dozen years or more, these massive challenges come rolling in, day after day, week after week, term after term. You don't understand what you're being taught. You keep getting bad marks. You struggle with homework. You want to be cleverer than you are. You can't get in the school team for something. You're in a fight – which is terrible, even if you win, and utterly shaming if you lose. Then there's all the nascent sexual politics to navigate. You fancy someone. You get your friend to ask them out for you. Your friend returns with the bad news. And soon everyone knows it. And these days, ye gods, whatever your bad news is, the whole world might know it, thanks to social media. And all of the above stresses and strains will follow you home and stick to you for ever.

Deixando a escola ou o colégio

Whenever I meet an 18-year-old leaving school or college, my first thought isn't how their exams have gone or what they're doing next. I just want to know that they're OK, that physically and mentally they're in one piece. If so, great, well done, onward. The rest of your life might, comparatively, be less of a struggle than you've been led to believe.

Mujeres de mediana edad disfrutan ardientes aventuras en Both Sides of the Blade y True Things

La directora de cine Claire Denis y el cineasta Harry Wootliff presentan a mujeres maduras que disfrutan de apasionados romances en Both Sides of the Blade y True Things. Por otro lado, la actriz y directora de cine de Quebec Monia Chokri adopta un enfoque más suave y alegre en su tercera película y primera como guionista en solitario. La película comienza en una animada cena donde un grupo de amigos intelectuales discuten sobre el fin del mundo ("Estamos en negación de la extinción"). Posteriormente, el enfoque se centra en una pareja.

Sophia (Magalie Lépine-Blondeau), una profesora de filosofía cuyas conferencias consisten básicamente en enumerar citas sobre el amor de figuras como Schopenhauer, Spinoza y Platón, está en una relación cómoda y sin complicaciones con Xavier (Francis-William Rhéaume) desde hace una década. Contrata al trabajador rudo Sylvain (Pierre-Yves Cardinal) para remodelar su cabaña de vacaciones y queda encantada de encontrar que puede hacer lo mismo con su vida sexual sin ningún costo adicional.

Sophia experimenta una relación apasionada con Sylvain

Lépine-Blondeau capta la alarma y la alegría que Sophia experimenta con Sylvain, literalmente debajo de él en una escena, durante la cual ella narra en voz alta su propia incredulidad ("Totalmente irracional! ¡No tiene sentido!") mientras él se retuerce encima de ella. Durante una buena hora, todo es rosas, con la hermosa partitura pastoral de Emile Sornin sonando adecuadamente efervescente. Gradualmente, comienzan a aparecer espinas: Sylvain muestra un gusto por un poeta de derecha y muestra signos de celos, agresión y racismo. Es un mérito de Chokri su deseo de explorar la oscuridad moral de sus personajes que muestra la relación tambaleándose más allá de estas banderas rojas en áreas cómicas (una propuesta matrimonial incómoda) y transgresoras (Sophia compra un collar y una correa para que Sylvain lo use en ella).

Una película visualmente afectada

Chokri ha hablado de su deseo de filmar la película en el estilo de un documental de naturaleza, por lo que hay muchos planos exteriores que asoman a momentos íntimos o planos interiores que miran hacia afuera. Sin embargo, el estilo visual recargado que llama constantemente la atención sobre sí mismo dificulta que nos sumerjamos en este romance tempestuoso. Un minuto, una composición fracturada divide el rostro de Sophia en dos, al siguiente Sylvain es aposta gratis 22bet grafiado a través del parabrisas del coche, el espejo retrovisor coloca una barra a través de sus ojos como si estuviera ocultando su identidad. Deje de contar las afectaciones visuales de la década de 1970, pero basta decir que André Turpin, el director de aposta gratis 22bet grafía habitual de Xavier Dolan, debe haber sido pagado por cada zoom brusco.
