Self-saucing puddings are magical, and everyone should have a recipe ready. The transformation from a wet mixture (in which it is hard to see the potential) to a soft and irresistible pudding is amazing. I have tried many versions of them over time – some with dates and ricotta, others with apple and caramel, chocolate fudge and more. This one, with elderflower and lemon, is for citrus lovers. It is delightfully sour, and can be prepared quickly.

Self-saucing elderflower and lemon pudding

I use a medium oval casserole dish of about 650ml capacity. The batter should fill it halfway up the side, so the liquid sits on top without spilling over.

Prep time: 20 min

Cook time: 30 min

Serves: 4-6

80g butter, softened, plus extra for greasing

80g golden caster sugar

Finely grated zest of 2 lemons (use the juice in the sauce)

2 eggs

100g plain flour

½ tsp baking powder

A pinch of salt

100g ricotta

For the sauce

Juice of 2 lemons (you'll need 80ml)

60g caster sugar

30ml elderflower cordial

15g cornflour

Turn on the oven to 200C (180C fan)/390F/gas 6 and grease your baking dish (see recipe instructions).

In a bowl, mix the butter with the sugar and lemon zest until light and fluffy. Add the eggs one at a time, beating well after each addition. Sift in the flour, baking powder and salt, then fold in gently until just combined. Fold through the ricotta, then spoon the batter into the greased dish and spread it out evenly.

Put the lemon juice, caster sugar, elderflower cordial and cornflour in a small pan, put on a medium heat and stir until steaming. Pour the sauce over the top of the batter, then put the dish on a baking tray to catch any drips. Transfer to the hot oven and bake for 25-30 minutes, until the pudding is golden brown and set, and the sauce is bubbling around the edges. Remove, leave to cool for a few minutes, then serve.

Hunan: segunda barragem ameaçada após ruptura de dique

Relatório de Chen Sihan, Xinhua | Segunda-feira, 8 de julho de 2024, 10:30

Uma barragem localizada jogo de barbie Huarong, província de Hunan, está ameaçada nesta segunda-feira, após a ruptura de um dique na sexta-feira, disseram autoridades locais.

Mais de 300 policiais e bombeiros estão trabalhando no local para conter o efeito de tubulação que está corroendo a barragem no distrito de Huarong, disse o departamento provincial de recursos hídricos.

Nota:

O efeito de tubulação pode escavar um dique e levar a um rompimento se não for tratado adequadamente.

A barragem de 14,3 km está localizada a cerca de 2 quilômetros atrás do dique que rompeu na sexta-feira no lago Dongting, o segundo maior lago de água doce da China, após uma forte tempestade.

Evacuação e reparos

Pelo menos 7 mil moradores foram evacuados após o rompimento do dique na sexta-feira, e os trabalhadores estão se esforçando para selar a brecha de 226 metros.
