Mijaín López: El Terrible emprende su camino hacia la gloria en los Juegos Olímpicos de París

El espejo, espejo en la pared, ¿quién es el mayor atleta olímpico de todos? Pregúntale a un estadounidense, y probablemente dirán Michael Phelps. En Cuba, podrías obtener una respuesta diferente.

El luchador de estilo grecorromano cubano Mijaín López comenzó su intento de convertirse en el mayor atleta olímpico de la era moderna el lunes, ya que se acercó un paso más a un inigualable quinto oro consecutivo en una sola prueba.

Mientras Phelps derrotó a cientos de competidores en cuatro Juegos Olímpicos para ganar sus 28 medallas (23 de ellas de oro) y convertirse en el atleta olímpico más condecorado de la era moderna, en París 2024, López espera enfrentar al mayor enemigo del atleta: el tiempo.

"Lo haré", dijo el luchador de 41 años en marzo. "La fatiga está ahí, el dolor físico está ahí, por lo que la mente debe ser fuerte, la motivación debe ser aún más fuerte."

El atractivo primordial de la lucha grecorromana en los Juegos Olímpicos

La lucha grecorromana rara vez es el deporte destacado de unas Olimpiadas en estos días, pero su atractivo primordial estuvo a plena vista en la Arena Champ de Mars cuando los Juegos ingresaron a su segunda semana.

Elegido como uno de los deportes fundacionales en los primeros Juegos Olímpicos modernos en Atenas en 1896, la lucha grecorromana - a diferencia de la lucha libre - todavía está abierta solo a los hombres, quienes utilizan su fuerza superior del cuerpo superior en implacables clinches, anotando puntos mediante ejecuciones de holds, locks, throws o otras tomas legales.

El origen de la lucha grecorromana

Pero los orígenes del deporte se remontan mucho más atrás en los anales de la historia. Las pinturas rupestres representan la lucha libre hasta el 3000 a. C., y el deporte fue uno de los primeros incluidos en los Juegos Olímpicos Antiguos más de siete siglos antes del nacimiento de Cristo. Según la leyenda, el luchador griego Milo de Croton era tan fuerte que podía romper una cuerda atada a su cabeza con solo la fuerza de su frente, habiendo entrenado con un buey en crecimiento en su espalda cuando era joven.

López, por el contrario, construyó su fuerza persiguiendo animales y transportando cajas de fruta en Herradura, un pequeño pueblo en el oeste de Cuba. Conocido por sus padres como "el purro" (niño fuerte), comenzó a luchar a los 10 años.

Tres décadas después, cuando entró en la arena para lo que debe ser sus últimos Juegos Olímpicos, había una reverencia por uno de los verdaderos grandes de este o de cualquier deporte.

El cinco veces campeón mundial mostró ninguna misericordia al luchador surcoreano de 28 años Lee Seungchan en la pelea inaugural, ganando 7-0 en el breve partido de seis minutos. Una pelea de cuartos de final contra el iraní de 26 años Amin Mirzazadeh - quien ganó el título del campeonato mundial en 2024 prometió ser más difícil. Pero su marco montañoso se mantuvo fuerte, resistiendo los ataques del iraní para vencer a su rival por tres puntos a uno.

López continúa inexorablemente hacia las glorias finales de su carrera.

What is Fair Play?

Fair play is a complex concept that comprises and embodies a number of fundamental values that are not only integral to sport but relevant in everyday life.

Fair competition, respect, friendship, team spirit, equality, sport without doping, respect for written and unwritten rules such as integrity, solidarity, tolerance, care, excellence and joy, are the building blocks of fair play that can be experienced and learnt both on and off the field.

What do the fundamental values of fair play mean? Fair competition

To enjoy the fruits of success, it is not enough to win.

Triumph must be measured by absolute fair means, honesty and just play.

Respect

For every athlete, playing by the written rules is mandatory, and respecting the unwritten ones is a must.

Fair play requires unconditional respect for opponents, fellow players, referees and fans.

Friendship

Rivalry on the field does not exclude friendship.

On the contrary, friendship could grow from noble rivalries.

Team spirit

Individuals can be strong on their own, but they are much stronger in a team.

Sharing the moment of victory with your team is the ultimate pleasure.

Equality

Competing on equal terms is essential in sport.

Otherwise, performance cannot be measured properly.

Sport without doping

Fair play means not cheating by taking drugs or doping.

Anyone who does this ruins the game for everyone else.

Integrity

Being honest and having strong moral principles are essential to fair play.

Practicing sport within a sound ethical framework is vitally important if you aim to be a true champion.

Solidarity

It is important to support each other and share feelings, aims and dreams.

Mutual support brings mutual success on and off the field.

Tolerance

The willingness to accept behaviour or decisions you may not agree with develops your self-control.

Ultimately, that could be the deciding factor when it comes to winning or losing.

Care

True champions care about each other as they are well aware that they could not be where they are without having been cared for by others.

Excellence

Sport engages us in a collective effort to pursue human excellence.

Joy

Pierre de Coubertin, the father of the modern Olympic Games said: "The important thing in life is not the triumph, but the fight.

The essential thing is not to have won, but to have fought well.

" Competition can be intense, but you should always first look for joy when practicing any sports.

You should never forget about the play even in the heat of the fight.

How do the fundamental values of fair play contribute to the betterment of the world?

Fair play is not a theory.

Fair play is an attitude that manifests itself in behaviour.

Whenever we act in the spirit of fair play we contribute to building a peaceful and better world.

Without fairness and trustworthiness the established order of our society is at risk.

If we do not play by the rules, we ruin the spirit of the game and it is impossible to play with destroyers of the game.

Fair play, which is an essential and central part of successful involvement, promotion and development in both sport and life, can teach people tolerance and respect for others.

It allows them to integrate into society and create a sense of teamwork.

Fair play in sport is capable of giving hope, pride and identity, and it is able to unite where nationalities, politics, religions and cultures often divide.

Cooperation in the spirit of fair play delivers even greater results than pure gamesmanship in all walks of life.

It plays a key role, the role of a catalyst in today's society as a means of improving quality of life and human well-being.

How is fair play defined by the various stakeholders of sport and society?

Fair play for champions of sport

There is no sport without fair play and there are no champions either.

"The important thing in life is not the triumph, but the fight; the essential thing is not to have won, but to have fought well.

" Baron Pierre de Coubertin

"It takes more than crossing the line first to make a champion.

A champion is more than a winner.

A champion is someone who respects the rules, rejects doping and competes in the spirit of fair play.

" Jacques Rogge, IOC President

"Fair play gives sport the character of beauty.

Fair play is a common language, the cement of sports that is capable of gathering together the whole sports world.

There are many champions, but the champion of champions is the one who trains, competes and lives in the spirit of fair play.

" Jen Kamuti, President of the International Fair Play Committee

"We cannot understand fair play unless we link it to moral values such as the spirit of justice, fairness, and human dignity.

This "broad" vision makes fair play accessible to all and underpins all its specific applications.

Thus, respect, loyalty, tolerance and the healthy body are the marks of fair play in sport.

Reciprocity plays an essential role in competition: one cannot do without one's opponent, and sport demands a respectful attitude towards the other; respect must go to the loser as well as to the winner.

In order for there to be justice, equality of opportunity is as necessary in sport for leisure as in competitive sports, and in the latter, it must exist at all stages of training.

Fair play calls for the greatest understanding of the social environment of competitors and of different cultures.

" International Fair Play Committee, Declaration 2011

"The notion of fair play is a universally understood concept, which underpins all of sport.

Without fairness, sport is devoid of any meaning or purpose.

Worse still, it can be a detrimental experience for its participants.

But fair play is also a philosophy - one of respect for others, and respect for the institution of sport.

It leads to an agreement, between all of those involved in sport, on the values and lessons that we want sport to teach our children and ourselves.

Playing fair also has to do with making choices.

As we interact with each other in sport, or as spectators of sport, we must regularly consider and define what we think is right and what is not.

Sport engages us in a collective effort to pursue human excellence.

As our children interact with each other in sport, their ability to make good choices about fair play issues matures along with their ability to think and learn about what makes for a rewarding and fulfilling life in society.

" Canadian Centre for Ethics in Sport

"Fair play incorporates the concepts of friendship, respect for others and always playing within the right spirit.

Fair play is defined as a way of thinking, not just a way of behaving.

" Code of Sport Ethics, Council of Europe

Fair play for champions of everyday life

"Neither by nature, then, nor contrary to nature do the virtues arise in us; rather we are adapted by nature to receive them, and are made perfect by habit.

" Aristotle, Nichomachean Ethics

"Fair play is a positive concept.

Sport is a social and cultural activity which, practiced fairly, enriches society and the friendship between nations.

Sport is also recognized as an individual activity which, played fairly, offers the opportunity for self-knowledge, self-expression and fulfillment; personal achievement, skill acquisition and demonstration of ability; social interaction, enjoyment, good health and well-being.

Sport promotes involvement and responsibility in society with its wide range of clubs and leaders working voluntarily.

In addition, responsible involvement in some activities can help to promote sensitivity to the environment.

" Code of Sports Ethics, Council of Europe
